Ottawa

April 6th, 1935

At present the building of new homes is not proceeding at a rate that will offset the inevitable decay of old homes. An investigation into the whole problem is being made by a committee at present. New York city was faced with this problem in 1922 and granted tax exemption for new moderate priced dwellings for ten years if construction was started within one year of April, 1921. The plan proved to be very successful and there was a great increase in building activity. The city benefited by the increased demands for labor, building material and other goods. Various lots became valuable and taxes were paid on them. Canada, according to statistics, needs annually about 80,000 new homes, and evidence is being taken by the committee.

McCune-Cameron

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McCune, Abbey, Sask., at 2:30 p.m., April 6, when Audrey Ferno McCune, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McCune, became the bride of Albert Cameron, of Madison, Sask. Rev. Gladrich, officiated. The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white point D'Esprit over white satin and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Gwen McCune, wearing a floor length gown of carmine crepe was bridesmaid, and carried a bouquet of lilies and daffodils. Mr. Wes. Cameron, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Miss Freda Tuskin, of Shackleton, Sask., played "Mendelssohn's Wedding March," and during the signing of the register Mrs. F. McDonald sang, "Because."

After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served to the bridal party. The table was decorated in mauve and white. Mr. and Mrs. Cameron will reside at Madison, Sask.

Sir George Perley at the age of 78 is quietly leading the House. Each day he talks with Mr. Bennett and gets general applause when he announces that the Prime Minister's health is much improved. No progress is being made with important legislation as most of it is being held over till after Easter.

In an editorial entitled, "This Parliament is Thought," the Ottawa Citizen calls for a general election to clear the air. There have been six Sessions already, and there are great numbers feeling the Canadian people at home and abroad that could be more permanently dealt with by a Government with a verdict fresh from the people. Little interest is being taken in the work of the House, the debates are quiet and the attendance is poor. The private members on all sides of the House feel that they are not accomplishing what they hoped for in this Session and people generally are not taking much interest in the measures that have been brought down.

A rather unusual debate took place on Thursday on the Payroll Unemployment Bill. The regular debate by which capital punishment is being carried out is opposed by many. It is interesting to note that the Bill would be less effective than an investigation that is being asked into the whole problem to deal more particularly with the mental condition of convicts, the problem of isolating young persons as advocated by the Borstal System and the unequal sentences given by different magistrates for similar offences. Scheme for Impounding of Waters of Red Deer River May Be Developed

Robt. Gardiner and Dr. Gershaw Now Have Promise of Some Action; But No Details Particulars.

We appreciate receiving the following advance information from Dr. Gershaw, federal member for Medicine Hat. If this plan is carried out it can not only help make more secure the livelihood of a great many settlers besides providing employment and put idle lands into use and advance the welfare of the people and the districts generally. Dr. Gershaw writes:

"Dear Friend—
I have your letter of August 18th. . . . The idea, however, that you had of making an experiment to prevent soil drifting has recently developed. Year after year, Mr. Gardiner and myself have urged the diverting of waters from the Red Deer to fill up some of the lakes and ditches for stock watering purposes. We have also urged that re-grassing and planting of trees would help the Government have now decided to set aside a township here and there to conduct experiments in strip farming and any other methods of restoring fibre to the soil. I regret, that while this announcement has been made, we find it impossible to get any particulars of the plan, in fact, I am afraid the plan is not very well developed as yet."

I have pointed out to the Minister that there are many men in that district who have had great experience and whose advice would be very valuable. I have been greatly interested in these experiments but cannot as yet, obtain particulars. I thought you would be interested in knowing that the scheme you have advocated for so long now is likely to be developed, or at least we have a promise of this.

Yours sincerely,

F. W. Gershaw.

D. Lush who was local delegate to the Social Credit Convention at Calgary, arrived back on Wednesday. He reports the convention which was held there on Thursday and Friday as being very enthusiastic and successful.

Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellis

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellis was celebrated by a big surprise party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson on Saturday evening. About forty friends and neighbors gathered to congratulate them on the arrival at this auspicious milestone in their lives, and to wish them a continuation of many more anniversaries. The time was passed very sociably with instrumental musical entertainment and singing.

A feature of the evening's enjoyment were violin selections by J. McNeill and Glen Russell with Miss Lucille Anderson accompanying at the piano. Mrs. L. Shannon entertained those present with vocal solos in characterizations and Mrs. J. McNeill sang old-time selections and dressed the part in old-time costume. Mrs. J. N. Anderson accompanied at the piano.

A very tasty lunch was served by the ladies of the party. Close to 12 p.m. Mr. D. McEachern read an address and a little poem, following on which the guests were presented with a beautiful mantel clock as an appreciation on behalf of those present. Responses were made by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ellis and Mr. Elva Ellis, expressing their deep appreciation for the delightful time and the testimony of friendship embodied in the presentation of such a very fine gift. An enjoyable and happy time was brought to a close by everyone joining hands and singing, "Auld Lang Syne." The occasion was fittingly closed by a few words of prayer from Rev. A. J. Law.

Present with their parents were: Mr. Alva Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Corliss Ellis and daughter, Mr. Orville Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis were given a chesterfield as a present from their family.

Easter Thank-offering

The Women's Missionary Society will hold an Easter Thank-offering Service in the United Church on Good Friday, April 19th, at 2:30 p.m.

The program will follow out the Easter message leading up to the Crucifixion of Christ. Special music will be rendered. At the close of the service, tea will be served in the Sunday school room. Everybody cordially invited to this service.

Bindloss Notes

Last Friday evening, April 6, an entertainment was held in the Bindloss Hall under the auspices of the Social Plains Young Peoples' Club. The program consisted of songs, recitations and tap-dancing, ending in a two-act play entitled, "Dinky Dugan, Aristocrat."

The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. Stanley Gallup, of Acadia Valley, is spending a few days with friends here.

Presses Relief Claims of Village of Empress

W. O. Smith States That He Has Now Succeeded In Making Arrangements With Dept.

Under date of April 6th, we have received a communication from W. C. Smith, member in the provincial house for Empress constituency concerning the relief question locally. The matter was brought to Mr. Smith's attention when he visited here with the Hon. F. S. Griedale, he says:

"Since coming to Edmonton, I have had the question of relief in the Village of Empress under review, and their claim along lines of a grant. That arrangement was only for last fall, and no funds are available. However, after interviewing the Minister and the various officials concerned, a solution which I hope will be satisfactory has been agreed to. From now on the Village of Empress will not be required to pay their one-third of relief, as in the past. The whole amount will be paid by the Provincial Government."

Yours truly,
W. C. Smith

Surprise Party

On April 3rd, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smarzyk were entertained by a host of friends. The house was filled to capacity, about a hundred guests were present.

The evening was spent very pleasantly in games, cards, etc. On towards midnight, Mr. and Mrs. Smarzyk were presented with a carving set and a purse of money from all those present. After the presentation everyone sang, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Mr. Smarzyk responded with a speech appropriate to the occasion, expressing his appreciation and regrets; the speech was well applauded. A most delicious lunch was served, and on towards three o'clock in the morning the party was brought to a conclusion.

All present expressed their regrets at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Smarzyk, wishing them good luck in the future and hoped to see them, later on once again take up residence here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McCune and daughter, Audrey, Wes Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cameron (newly-weds), visited relatives in town over the week-end, they left for their home at Madison, Sask., Monday.

This spring has the appearance of being one of the latest springs in the memory of settlers in this district.

Compulsory Military Training For Germany Regarded As Menace

London.—Seeking to evaluate its implications, the world over the weekend weighed Saturday's proclamation of Chancellor Adolf Hitler invoking compulsory military training and giving Germany a peace-time army semi-officially estimated at from 325,000 to 500,000 men.

The Times suggests the projected Berlin visit of Sir John should be undertaken as planned. The Times said: "If Hitler's move is simply a rather crude method of asserting equality, then there is no irreparable harm done."

Hitler plans to apply conscription not only to the army but to the navy and the new air force as well, he was quoted as saying in an interview with The London Daily Mail correspondent at Munich, but he emphasized that "the German people want no war."

The interview was conducted while flying from Berlin to Munich to hold the first review of the German army on the new basis of universal service. News from other European capitals follows:

Berlin.—Germany staged a huge military demonstration in memory of Great War dead. General von Blomberg, reichswar minister, reiterated Hitler's statement of Saturday that Germany wants peace and that it will not permit any further aggression.

At the military demonstration, Reichsführer Hitler, Field Marshal von Mackensen, von Blomberg, Prussian Premier Hermann Wilhelm Goering and Admiral Erich Raeder publicly appeared upon a platform together for the first time, reviewing the parade of the new German army. Former Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm was present.

Paris.—Political circles in Germany's next move was to repudiate naval stipulations of the Versailles treaty. Foreign Minister Pierre Laval proposed going to Moscow shortly, it was said, to tighten up Franco-Soviet relations in view of Hitler's hostility to an eastern European mutual assistance pact.

All For Peace

Ramsay MacDonald Says White Paper Is A Peace Document

London.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, tired and showing the ravages of the severe cold that has kept him absent the last week, returned to duty to authorize the publication of reports he is about to resign.

Nevertheless, rumors continued that the veteran leader's retirement is likely, with general reconstruction of the cabinet following.

The prime minister presided at the cabinet session and strove to vigorously in defence of the "white paper" which he wrote to accompany it.

He estimated for British defence in 1935.

An old fighter for the cause of peace, the prime minister characterized the "white paper" as a "peace document."

"Peace is written on its forehead," peace is its concluding thought," peace is its purpose throughout."

Despite his physician's orders, MacDonald has been working very hard of late, and this has had its effect. His health is far from that of robustness which he hoped last year's Canadian vacation would bring.

Suspension Of Interest

Mayor McGeer Not Asking For Repudiation Of Vancouver's Obligation

Victoria.—"If the British Columbia government will give Vancouver the same kind of treatment as the province received from the national government, then we will be able to get by without default," Mayor G. G. McGeer told the private bills committee of the legislature.

The mayor was speaking to a proposal that Vancouver be given power to suspend for two years the payment of more than three per cent interest on its bonds.

If the province would give the city an $800,000 grant as proposed in the report of Thomas Bradshaw, Toronto financial expert, there would be no need to cut the interest, the mayor said.

He declared the city was not asking power to make a final repudiation of its obligation, but merely a suspension which would enable it to get straight within two years.

R. H. Pochy, University, Esquimalt, suggested Mr. McGeer approach the government to pay the excess interest above three per cent and get that way for two years. Then there would be no question about the city's credit in future borrowings.

"It'd be delighted, if they did that," said the mayor.

Trains Collide

Eleven Persons Injured When Freight And Passenger Trains Meet In Blinding Snowstorm

Caradoc, Ont.—Eleven persons were injured here when a Canadian Pacific railway passenger train and a freight train collided during a blinding snow storm.

Most seriously hurt was Engineer Malcolm D. MacTaggart, of London, Ont. In charge of the westbound passenger train, who incurred back injuries in a leap from the locomotive cab when he saw a collision was inevitable.

The other ten suffered skull, cuts, in two cases minor fractures, but were able to continue their destinations on the next train.

They were taken to the hospital.

The relief recipients were given $1 each as a Christmas gift and it was in cash. No action has been taken on the jubilee request.

The committee of London County Council will recommend strip.

London.—The education committee of the London county council—of which Labour is now in control—has decided to recommend the council should disband the cadet corps in the secondary schools. The governors of schools which receive aid from the L.C.C. are also to be invited to fill in.

This step was taken after an intensive debate. The committee held the training of the cadet corps possessed very little educational advantage and was ineconomical with the spirit of peace.

Supporting Fund

Ottawa.—The Mervin, Sask. branch of the Canadian Legion advised the management of the King George V Silver Jubilee Canteen fund that it was organizing a subscription list of every member of the legion in its zone with the object of raising money for the fund.

FRENCH SCIENTISTS SEE UNUSUAL DEMONSTRATION

Paris.—The French scientists at the Académie des Sciences, Paris, the system is not new and M. Lamière does not claim in any sense to have invented it. However, the glasses or screen used, have not contained exactly complementary colors, with the result that the eye quickly tired. M. Lamière claims to have perfected the glasses so that it is possible to watch stereoscopic films with no strain on the eyes.

Insurance Interest Rates

Would Limit Interest On Loans To Policy Holders To Six Per Cent.

Ottawa.—Canadian insurance companies would be willing to have a clause inserted in the insurance act limiting interest they can charge on loans to policy holders to six per cent.

Hon. N. W. Rowell, representing the companies, made this announcement at the close of the sitting of the house committee on banking and commerce.

Companies at present charge six per cent as a rule on loans on policy but in cases where the insured fails to pay his premium and an automatic loan has to be made to cover it, the practice has been to add an extra charge for expenses. This, in the case of one company, was an additional four per cent. In one of the large companies it was two per cent. Companies are prepared to forego any addition for expenses, Mr. Rowell said.

G. G. Coote (U.F.A., Macleod) has a bill adding parliament to fix rate at four per cent. The committee was considering this bill when Mr. Rowell made the announcement.

Control Of Large Profits By Taxation Proposed By Hon. H. H. Stevens

Ottawa.—Control of profits in excess of an allowed maximum by taxation on a steeply graduated scale and distribution of the balance has been proposed by Hon. H. H. Stevens to the price spreads commission.

In memoranda placed before the commission, it was learned the former minister of trade and commerce suggests "all profits of all corporations in excess of a datum quantity in each industry or commercial activity shall be divided into three parts: One-third going to the state, one-third going to the employees or workers in the undertaking (not including executives), and one-third going to the company."

Other suggestions of the former trade minister are:

Operation of dump duty provisions of the customs act in domestic trade as is done with imports, so that where any article is sold at less than its fair market value in normal commercial practices the difference be assessed as a tax. The proposal is to put an end to special price cuts on quantity purchases by large buyers.

Stopping of all discounts, rebates or allowances in excess of five per cent. Five per cent is suggested as the maximum rate of discount on selling costs on large orders and also to compensate the big buyers for any preferred position with respect to credit.

Income tax regulations to force holding companies to pay income tax on earnings of individual units of companies instead of on consolidated balance sheet.

All salaries of more than $10,000 yearly from companies be taxed as company earnings. A memorandum suggests the question has arisen if some companies are not using large salary payments in place of paying dividends as is to escape taxation.

Regulations for the financial set-up of corporations, including payment of dividends only out of profits, payment of stock premiums into capital and not profit account; limitation of stock issues to one common and one preferred; complete exposure of all reserves in balance and annual statements that will show the true position of a company.

The memorandum referred specifically to larger departmental and mail order houses and chain stores, also milling companies, chain bakeries, canning corporations and packing companies.

Establishment of a "federal trade and industrial commission" for regulation and control of industrial and commercial corporations and associations and more efficient administration of existing commercial laws of new laws.

The commission will decide, it was learned, if the recommendations will be placed as part of the majority report.

The recommendation states it was the existence of the state that made possible productive elements which enabled the company or individual to earn substantial returns on capital invested.

The proposal argues the worker has not been receiving a fair return for his labor and the worker was worthy of his hire. Where there were excess winnings, if the worker shared in them, there would be a more distributive system, the memorandum states. The giving of one-third of the excess profits to the company is suggested as a means of putting forward the best effort and for economical management.

The detailed analysis of evidence given before the mass buying commission dealing with "the diminution of the amount of taxes paid by corporations and their system of setting off losses in certain units against gains in other units and being taxed only on the net result," was submitted by Hon. H. H. Stevens.

Organizations operating a number of units were in a position to "wash out" losses of non-productive units with profits of more successful units, thus escaping payments of taxes which the independent single unit would have to pay. The profitable unit could not evade.

Another form of escape from taxation by some large multiple organizations was said to be by reduction of legitimate amount of sales tax that should be paid by paying the per cent sales tax on invoice prices, reduced by excessive discounts.

British House Votes Its Approval Of 1935 Naval Estimates

London.—The British House of Commons voted its approval, 155 to 40, of naval estimates for 1935 amounting to £60,000,000 ($201,843,000 at par), an increase of 13,500,000 over last year.

The vote came after Sir Bolton Byres-Monell, first lord of the admiralty, expressed hope that principle of the Washington treaty in no manner could be perpetuated in order that navies of the great powers may continue regulated by international agreement.

Sir Bolton asserted Britain's desire to see the size of battleships, cruisers and their respective guns reduced by joint agreement.

He announced preliminary conversations with other naval powers to prepare the ground for "the approaching naval conference" had been going on, with establishing friendly contact with all delegations.

He emphasized that the United Kingdom could not reduce the number of its naval vessels any further, but was anxious to get a joint international agreement for reduction of the sizes of vessels. Sir Bolton said he thought the maximum for all future cruisers might be fixed at 7,000 tons and their guns limited to 6-inch.

The first lord assailed the Labor party for "trying to make the electorate think this government is a war mongering government," saying it is "the most senseless, groundless and base charge ever made by a political party against its country."

Gold Reserve Of New Central Bank Will Be Above Requirements

Ottawa.—The Bank of Canada has a gold reserve of $106,584,355 according to its first statement.

The statement was of assets and liabilities at the end of the first three days operations. The gold reserve is that turned over by the department of finance and chartered banks. It also has silver bullion and sterling and United States funds bringing total reserves up to $107,160,593.

Gold backing is well above statutory requirements for note circulation and deposits from the Dominion and from chartered banks which total $24,222,415. The statute requires a ratio of 25 to 100 whereas the ratio shown was 42.47 to 100.

All issue of notes backed by this gold reserve in future will be in hands of the Central Bank. During the last year the department of finance issued about $50,000,000 of new money to cover construction operations. This will not be possible in future. If the government wishes to pay new money in such quantities it must borrow it on securities.

Bank of Canada total paid up capital is $4,990,140, leaving a balance of $1,000,000. The bank's funds holders will be given a month to pay the balance.

The bank already has Dominion government securities of $140,850,930, turned over to it by the department of finance to cover Dominion bonds. A circulation of $100,000,000 starts off with an income from interest on these securities. There were $185,000,000 in Dominion notes out when the bank started operation.

Trans-Atlantic Air Mail Is Expected To Serve Empire At About Cost Of Inland Postage

Sir Eric Geddes, chairman of Imperial Airways, said at a Press Club dinner in London that he believed a satisfactory trans-Atlantic air-mail service would be established by the year 1935. Arrangements for this service already were being made in Newfoundland, he said.

The possibility of wider and cheaper empire air-mail service was mentioned by Sir Eric. With the help of the post office and the air ministry, he said, "we shall be able to carry air-mail to all the empire at no more cost than the present inland postage."

Arrangements were going forward in Newfoundland, he said, "for the arrival in a year or two of what we believe will be a satisfactory trans-Atlantic mail service and then we shall have practically linked the world empire." He said new aircraft which Imperial Airways was building with the help of the air ministry was their attempt to solve the long sea-mailing with the certainty necessary for a mail route.

The land-locked harbor of St. John's is expected to be used as the Newfoundland base for a projected trans-Atlantic air-mail service forecast in London by Sir Eric Geddes, chairman of Imperial Airways. It is understood the route line would be linked up with the Imperial Airways eastern routes on the other side and with Canadian and American systems on this side.

Oppose British Meat Duty

Australia Objects Strongly To Proposed Levy On Empire Meats

Australia learned definitely that the British government will propose the imposition of a duty of two cents a pound on foreign meat, one cent on Empire meat, and discontinuance of the present quantitative restriction on meat imports when present arrangements expire at the end of June.

The Commonwealth government is not prepared to agree to such a policy, Dr. Earle Page, deputy prime minister, said. He added it could only be introduced with the concurrence of all Empire countries and that objection was raised to any proposal contemplating the imposition of duties, such a proposal could not be put into effect.

Pending the forthcoming conference in London between ministers of the various governments, it is anticipated that any further arrangements will be of a purely temporary nature designed to tide over the period elapsing before a long-term policy can be agreed on and put into effect.

Simplicity Is Best

Avoid Using A Long Word When Short One Will Do

"In writing and speaking, be simple," says Dean Alford, "be unaffected, be honest in your speaking and writing. Never use a long word when a short one will do, you always lose by using a long one."

"You lose in clearness; you lose in honest expression of your meaning; and in the estimate of all people who are qualified to judge, you lose in reputation of ability. Eloquent language may not be in the power of all of us, but simplicity and straightforwardness are."

Trees As Memorials

A suggestion has been made that throughout the Empire trees be planted to commemorate the King's Silver Jubilee, which is being celebrated this year. Trees are perhaps the most satisfying form of remembrance and though less enduring than stone monuments and more at the mercy of the elements they should last until the story of their planting is lost in the mists of tradition.

Plans are under way to publish a British tree magazine, and for the steadily increasing number of Scout troops in institutions for blind boys.

American scientists are searching for an elm tree which can resist the dread Dutch elm disease, now destroying thousands of these American trees.

The 1935 Grasshopper Situation

Intensive Control Campaign Will Be Necessary In Each Province

That a grasshopper control campaign will be necessary in each of the prairie provinces during 1935 is the statement of officials of the Entomological Research Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The situation in Manitoba is expected to be at least as serious, if not more so, than in 1934; that in Saskatchewan will probably be very much less serious, and that in Alberta is expected to be somewhat less extensive and serious than during 1934.

This forecast has been made from egg surveys carried on in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during the summer of 1934, by the officers of the Entomological Branch in co-operation with officials of the provincial governments. The surveys included the entire territory likely to be infested. Counting how closely former surveys have anticipated the actual situation the following year, and the fact that they have been based upon the eggs actually to be found in the ground, there is little question in regard to the substantial accuracy of the forecasts.

In spite of the widespread reduction in "severity" and "very serious" infested areas, there will still be millions of acres of crop in each province which will require the most intensive and painstaking control measures if the greater portion of the crop is to be harvested. Accordingly, large scale and intensive control campaigns will be necessary in each province and the plans for the carrying on of this work, which is regarded of great national importance, are already in course of preparation.

The campaign of 1934 was so successful in the savings of millions of bushels of grain and feed that no question will arise in respect to the support which will be given the control work by the individual farmers in the infested districts.

Rust-Resistant Wheats

One Of The Greatest Triumphs Of Canadian Agriculture

In two or three years' time the Department of Agriculture expects to release one or more strains of rust-resistant wheat in substantial quantities. This most important strain makes one of the greatest triumphs of Canadian agriculture in overcoming a very destructive disease that attacks several crops.

As a result of years of unremitting effort, co-ordinated by a committee known as the Associate Committee on Field Cereals, strains of rust-resistant wheat, with what is believed will have the yielding ability, baking, milling and early ripening qualities of most varieties as Marquis, have been developed. The members of this committee are representatives of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the National Research Council, and the Western Universities and Colleges, and their work, which covers every phase of cereal breeding and pathological researches on rusts, smuts, foot-rots and other cereal diseases, has progressed with certainty in the face of what seemed to be insuperable difficulties. So that these strains of the new rust-resistant wheat may not be exploited by anyone, their own financial advantage, the distribution of the seeds will be controlled by the Cereal Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture until a sufficient quantity has been developed to enable small lots to be distributed to a large number of farmers.

Sourdoughs Take To Air In Alaska Gold Rush

Pacific Alaska Airways announced a network of fast flying service over many of the famous old dog-trail trails. Planes with cruising speeds of 160 miles an hour will be used, starting this spring.

Milk Better Than Meat

That the protein of milk is of more value for purposes of nutrition than the protein of meat has been proven by a series of experiments conducted in England by Dr. Corry Mann, who reports his findings in an issue of the "Lancet."

Dr. Mann found that where the total milk intake of the various regions of the territory, taking men and machinery in a few hours to points where travel used to require weeks and months.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A mirror will bring out the priceless smile of youth.

You may think you have exhausted the supply of picture possibilities in your home but the chances are that there are countless interesting subjects you have completely overlooked.

It is the unusual that attracts attention, but it is likewise to your eyes and a little imagination and ingenuity to ferret out these exceptional views, angles, etc., and get pictures that show individuality and interest. For instance, an intriguing and often unlimited possibilities if one will do a little creative thinking. Let's take the above picture as an example.

When focusing for reflecting images only, it is necessary to add the distance from the mirror to the lens of the camera and then set the focus accordingly.

If it is desired to include the subject in the picture with the reflected image the focus should be set for the distance from the mirror to the lens. The smaller the lens opening the greater the depth of field and the sharper the reflected image. Of course, the nearer the subject is to the mirror the less is required in the matter of exposure.

In the picture above, the subjects were about two feet and the camera six feet from the mirror. As both the subject and reflected image were to be included in the picture the focus was set at six feet. The diaphragm was set at f16 and a photograph furnished the light.

If the figure and camera were in a position to show only the reflected image in the picture being taken the focus would have been set at the eight foot distance mark.

The diagram shows position of subjects, camera and mirror. When the above picture was taken, after setting the focus at six feet, a camera at the proper distance and the diaphragm at f16 set the shutter for one exposure. "I do not have any bright lights in the room. Piece of advice, however, is to have a lamp within reaching distance of the camera, as designated in diagram. Be sure to remove the shade from the lamp. Take your position at the camera, and you will get subjects not to move. Press the cable release to open your shutter and immediately turn on the flashlight, and then quickly close the shutter. The picture has been taken. Photoflash lamps are made in two sizes, costing 15 and 25 cents each. For this type of picture the 25 cent size should be used.

In amateur photography experimenting becomes the spirit of experiment. You will get interesting effects you will get in working out "stunt" pictures on stormy rainy days when outdoor activities are taboo. Results in some instances may be rather grotesque but you will have a lot of enjoyable amusement and pictures that show individuality. Anyone can take the ordinary run of pictures but it requires a little ingenuity to get the unusual. That is what you should shoot for.

Prairie Poultry Marketing Plan Fails To Carry Through Majority Vote Lacking Necessary Weight

British Films

More Pictures Of British Production Being Released In United States

The presence of Michael F. Balcon, executive director of Gaumont-British Production, is causing Hollywood to take stock of the British challenge in the motion picture field. In successive years Britain has released pictures in the United States approximately as follows: Four in 1931, 22 in 1932, 23 in 1933, 44 in 1934, and this year the total may reach 60.

London films, which made "The Private Life of Henry VIII," has several pictures about ready, including "One Hundred Years From Now," based on the story by H. G. Wells, and "Congo Lulu." Currently in favor is a Gaumont-British film "The Unfinished Symphony."

While denying he is here to plan a "war" between British and United States film producers, Balcon admits that "late" we have started eyeing the American market more carefully than before."

Poultry producers of Saskatchewan and Alberta voted in favor of a scheme to regulate marketing of poultry and eggs under the Marketing Act, Hon. Robert Watt announced, but the majority was not sufficient to bring the scheme into effect. In Manitoba the scheme was buried under an adverse vote of three to one.

Several schemes under the act have been passed without a poll being taken. In these instances the minister has been convinced there was such unanimity of opinion no vote was necessary. When prairie poultry producers, however, brought forward a scheme, it was recognized there was a wide difference of opinion concerning it. The scheme was allowed to meet requirements of the Marketing Act by the Dominion marketing board and preparations made to appeal to producers.

The Dominion government granted $20,000 to conduct the poll, to be divided $20,000 for Alberta, $20,000 for Saskatchewan and $10,000 for Manitoba. No conduct of the campaign was left with promoters of the scheme in the prairie provinces with the provision whenever falls were hired speakers opposed to the scheme should be given an opportunity to speak as well as those favoring it.

Every poultry grower with 25 poultry was allowed to register and vote in his or her post office. The poll was held from Feb. 10 to Feb. 22.

The result of the vote was 62.5 per cent for the scheme in Alberta, 63.4 per cent in Saskatchewan and 24.2 per cent in Manitoba.

"That 93,237 farmers were interested enough in the marketing of their product to vote was in itself very satisfactory," said Watt.

"Some may protest that the majority in Saskatchewan and Alberta was sufficient to bring in the scheme but that would be breaking faith. The literature sent out by supporters of the scheme specified it was not to come into effect unless 66 2/3 of the vote was favorable."

"The vote was not on the Marketing Act, it was for and against the particular scheme submitted by the producers themselves," the minister explained.

Again Stone nodded.

"And that means, of course," said Crew, moodily, "that Dustin can ruin Joe. Joe's past sixty right now. It's only known cattle. This is his last at the ranch. You know Edith right good. If she ever gets the idea into her red-head that by marrying Dustin she can save her father, she's damned likely to do it. She'd even marry that dirty hound Dustin to save Joe."

"You forget one thing... two things. That one may be what I feel sure it is..."

"It'll take a year to get even a hundred per cent. mine to work," said Crew. "There'll be a lawsuit first over it."

"Well find that man Kane," said Stone confidently. "And, too, Gerald Keene'll be in to-morrow night. Something'll turn up."

"By heavens, that's so. If this Gerald Keene is like his uncle, he'll never see old Joe ahead to the well. I'm going in to see to meet him to-morrow. I've got to go to the bank to try to raise money for our payroll... Nine hundred dollars. You better go with me."

"I'd like to see you stop me. I'm for the bunkhouse now. And Stone strode back toward the house."

Halfway to the bunk-house he was stopped by Edith. For a moment he regarded her wordlessly. Her lips were unsmiling, but there was a light in her eyes that he had never seen before.

"What has happened?" she asked breathlessly.

"Not much. I told Jameson of the Seco paper about the ore and he will give you an expert opinion on it. The most important thing is that he's trying to find Kane."

"That can't help much," she said. "My only hope is in Daddy's new partner, Mr. Keene. He may be able to help us if he will. Do you know what that beat Dustin said to Daddy?"

"She told him pretty much what Crew had already said."

"Of course he wants to marry you," he said curtly. "Who in his senses wouldn't?"

"The fool..." She uttered forth to think that he can buy a girl like you."

"What do you mean by that? Buy me?"

"For one brief minute he could decide whether to tell her or not. Then he told. Her eyes widened as she listened and when he stopped, she laid a hand gently on his arm.

"I'm glad you told me this," she said quickly. "I knew Daddy had borrowed some money but I did not know from whom he got it."

"Your father doesn't yet know that Dustin holds the note," he said. "You'd better not tell him that yet. Wait till Kane gets here."

"I will be careful. I am glad to know the worst at least... I know at least where the thunder will come."

"You will not even consider marrying that man Dustin, will you?"

"Would you drink poison if you were thirsty and you knew it was poison?" she countered. "Good night," but her eyes told him unbelieveably.

Crew drew him aside after dinner the next day.

"Damn it all," he said. "Old Joe insists on going in to see to what he tried to head him off. If he goes to the bank to get the money for the payroll, he may find out about that note. It's sure to come up. If he finds that Pogram sold his note to Dustin, he'll likely go on the prod."

"Even Edith could not keep her father at home. During that drive he was cranky and querulous, and Stone sensed that."

"Go straight to the bank..." Carr's usually pleasant voice was a snarl.

Stone headed the car for the bank and stopped under a tree and Carr, with Crew at his heels, strode into the bank. Peter, seeing them enter, ducked into his cage, and old Pogram, he faced flushed to a dusky tone, dived like a rabbit for his private office. The next moment Joe Carr burst into the room. A sudden babel of raised voices swung out of the empty bank.

"Good Lord!" muttered Stone. "The fact's pointed in the fire by now. I wonder if I had better have told him about that note of his that Dustin holds."

He was dimly aware that the centre of the trouble had drifted into Pogram's private office. One or two men in the street, hearing the voices raised in anger, stopped, glanced significantly and went on up the street. It was no new thing in Seco to have a sudden war in Pogram's office. Suddenly old Joe Carr shot out of the place. His very beard was curling with wrath and his eyes were blazing. He stumbled into the car and Crew pitched in beside him.

"Take it easy, Joe," he said in a low tone. "No need to let all Seco know your affairs. Take it easy, tell you. Did you get the cash for the payroll?"

"Oh, that! Yes. I got that on a thirty-day note for fifteen per cent..." He laughed mirthlessly. "Do you know what that damned dog Pogram has done?" he said in a low, tense tone. "He held my note for eleven thousand secured by the half of the Hour-glass. Damned if he hasn't sold it to Kane. To Dustin, of all men! That's what that damned cur had the nerve to come to me to tell me he wants to marry Edith."

His face suffused with blood and his breath drew hard.

"I told Pogram I'd settle that note up on time."

"... So I will, just as soon as I can make arrangements with Gerald Keene, my partner. Damn it all!

He'll buy the ranch from me if I say the word. How do I know? Well, man! Isn't this Gerald Keene old Peter Vinton's kin? Wouldn't I have done the same for old Peter?"

And Frank Crew, who knew that Joe was speaking the plain, unvarnished truth, said nothing. Carr snatched out his watch and glanced at it.

"We've got time to get a drink at the Silver Dollar before we meet the train," he snapped.

"We don't want anything to drink," expostulated Stone. "It's late now. The only reason you go into the bank was because it's open after hours."

Carr glared at him. For an employee to give him any back-talk was unheard of but... He reflected that this man Stone was a close friend of this Gerald Keene, and this man Keene was an unknown quantity.

"You go to hell, son," he said with heavy emphasis. "You're off to hell. Drive to the Silver Dollar."

Stone glanced at Crew and a quick nod reassured him. He stopped the car before the Silver Dollar and stayed in the car while Carr, with Crew behind him, entered the place. A moment later a hand was laid on his arm and Jameson stopped by him.

"I got some news for you, Stone," he said briefly. "The fact is, we're off. He's about crazy over it. He's says it's 'ham bled in champagne'."

"You know what that assayer says when he talks of champagne? It comes from and if there is much of it. I stalled him off. By the way, how did that big sample get covered with blood?"

"Big sample?..." Stone stared at him. "Blood?..." What are you talking about, Jameson?"

"I'm talking about that biggest sample that you brought in. You had it in your coat pocket. Did you have a fight?"

"No. I don't understand. I seem to remember that I did notice a dark stain when I picked it up. By the way, I got that ore specimen from the place where the camp-fire was. That's probably where the blood came from. Have you succeeded in finding old man Kane yet?"

"No. No one has seen him for some time. They tell me he's been grub-staked by Dustin at the Broken Spur. That's what you said, too. I may have to see Dustin. It's barely possible that that old fool Pogram may be able to give us some information about Kane. I saw him heading for the station a while ago. He'll be better with him to get a clear head before I tackle him for straight talk."

Canada's Home Markets

Canadian home markets absorb approximately 85 per cent of Canadian farm produce according to Dominion government estimates. The home market has come to be almost the sole outlet for animal products, with the exception of bacon, and there are only three products—wheat, apples, and cheese—of which more than 50 per cent is exported.

Jubilee Services

Special Prayer Written For Occasion By Archbishop of Canterbury

Church services throughout the British Empire will be marked by the singing of the national anthem during the celebration of the royal jubilee, it was announced in London.

It was also announced a special prayer had been written for the occasion by the Archbishop of Canterbury and would be said in all English churches.

Text of prayer: "It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty, that we should give thanks unto Thee, O Lord, holy Father, almighty, everlasting God, for that Thou wast pleased, as an sovereign lord, King George, upon the throne of this realm and hath profited him, in days of sickness and of health, throughout his reign of five and twenty years. For the example of unceasing service set by him and our gracious Queen Mary, for the loyalty borne to him by the great family of peoples and in all parts of the world, we magnify Thy glorious name."

Bank Borrowers

Financial Institutions Were Heaviest Borrowers in 1934 From Chartered Banks

Financial institutions and operators were the heaviest borrowers from chartered banks of Canada, according to a statutory return as of Oct. 31, 1934, made public by Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes.

Total loans to financial houses, including brokers and bond dealers' loans, trust, mortgage and investment house loans, and loans to individuals against approved stocks and bond, totalled $27,897,430.

The mining industry was the lowest borrower, with $6,652,120. Total loans of all classifications on that date were $1,149,708,830.

Agriculture ran second to finance in classification, borrowing $214,745,094, of which $64,229,743 went to farmers, cattle raisers and fruit growers, and $150,515,350 to grain dealers and exporters and seed merchants.

Health Rules Draw Up

To Lessen Danger Of Transporting Disease By Air

A set of rules designed to minimize the danger of disease propagation by aircraft moving from one country to another has been drawn up by the International Sanitary Convention for Air Navigation.

Great Britain is one of the 23 countries which have agreed to the rules, although British Empire colonies are considered practically immune because of the repeated changes in one type of airplane to another on route.

The rules relate chiefly to the provision at Customs aerodromes of means of inspection, and, if necessary, for segregation.

Had The Information

Lieut. Alfred Hernandez of the Chilean police was the most astute man in London when he was there to study British police methods. He had long sought a rare book on occultism. In vain he looked for it in the United States and on the European continent. In desperation he asked a London "Bobby" in Regent street. Hernandez nearly collapsed. The "Bobby" told him the proper title, the price and the name of the publisher.

In ten years the United States has imported six million dollars worth of radium—less than one-third of a pound.

People are returning to what they once believed, that nothing can be had without work.

FOR FAST RELIEF FROM PAIN

All Druggists Have It

An Aspirin tablet starts disintegrating as soon as it touches moisture. That means that Aspirin starts "taking hold"... eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain almost instantly. And Aspirin is safe. Doctors prescribe it. For Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Be sure to look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet. Aspirin is made in Canada and all druggists have it.

Little Helps For This Week

"Therefore my beloved brethren be ye steadfast, unmovable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain for the Lord. I Corinthians 15:58.

Say not, 'twas all in vain. The darkness and the darkness and the strife: Love thrown upon the waters comes again.

In quinquennial yearnings for a noble life.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object and in no measure obtained it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not evicted? Did ever a man try truth, heroism, sincerity of magnanimity, and find there was no advantage in them, or that it was a vain endeavor?"

Do right, and God's recompense to you will be the power of doing more right. Give, and God's reward to you will be the spirit of giving more, a blessed spirit for it is the spirit of God himself, whose life is the blessedness of giving. Love, and God will reward you with the capacity of more love, for love is heaven, love is God within you.

Success comes to those who make up their minds to do a thing—and then do it.

Approximately 2,270,000 square miles, or two-fifths of South America, is drained by the Amazon river.

THE TENDERFOOT

By GEORGE B. RODNEY Author of "The Coronado Trail," "The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now, returns to the ranch and Spike Goddard, who has grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along while Stone and Edith are riding fence, and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions their dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Dad Kane has seen the Broken Spur men rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shows Kane he has the note on Pogram's gear, a drug addict, who, stupefied by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether to fight or not. They bury Kane and then return to the mine to get the note.

Meanwhile at the Hour Glass, Carr, Crew and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the prospect book. They find the rich gold deposit mentioned in the prospect note here.

As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who, purposely, had unsuccessfully tries to ride down Stone.

(Now Go On With The Story)

"We sure did. And on the way home, when Dustin tried to ride me down in the gully de caballo, I upset him and I went through his pockets. I found in his pocketbook a note for eleven thousand borrowed on the Hour-glass that he got from Mr. Pogram. Pogram told the note to Dustin. That's how things stand."

"Uh-huh. And that means that if Dustin runs out the note, here Joe's share of the Hour-glass. Joe can't meet that note right now, you know?"
